Degustationsnotizen

Robert Parker, Jr., The Wine Advocate, October 2016 "The 2014 Cabernet Sauvignon Spring Mountain has a dense bluish/purple color to the rim. It comes across as slightly more elegant, with floral notes dominating the wine's aromatics. Violets and rose petals followed by blueberry and blackberry fruit as well as some crushed rock in a medium to full-bodied, beautifully pure, suave style characterize this wine, which was made from Spring Mountain vineyards such as Yverdon and Wurtele. Drink it over the next 25 years." "There are several theories as to why Savannah, Georgia was spared at the end of Sherman's March. One was that it was too beautiful to destroy. With its antebellum architecture, cobblestone streets and heady springtime aromas, it is a city of great beauty and underlying strength—one that reminds us of the 2014 Lokoya Spring Mountain Cabernet Sauvignon, with its floral aromatics, ripe boysenberry fruit character and fine minerality. Like seeing a beautiful Southern belle for the first time, this wine will resonate in your memory for years to come." — Christopher Carpenter, Winemaker
